Merely no terms to spell out. We have read through and i also am confident that i will gonna read yet again again in the future. You will not sense monotony at anytime of your own time (that's what catalogs are for about should you question me).

Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Complete Poetical Works of Joaquin Miller In looking over my notes at the end of this second edition, wherein I have tried to answer and even anticipate the eager questions of young poets, I find I may have said too much; given too much encouragement, too little caution. Let me qualify all I have set down in this book, by saying bluntly, that the poet's trade is the hardest trade of all trades in the world; his compensation is the poorest; his triumphs the fewest; not one in ten thousand can earn his bread at it. Sir Walter Besant is being laughed at for having advised that a man should secure a competence before writing books. But Sir Walter was right. And the novelist, as a rule, receives fifty dollars to the poet's one. Another thing to be taken into account before venturing up the stormy steeps of song, poets, like priests or preachers, are not in the line of preferment, either at the polls or at the White House. Suppose that James Whitcomb Riley should ask to be Governor, or I to be sent to the beautiful land of the Rising Sun! See? Yet we have managed our affairs fairly well, made fortune and fair name out of nothing, - have practically made bricks without straw. Yet, while there is no more danger of our asking such preferment than there is of our receiving it, you see clearly that the poet must stand alone. Again, the poet is, must be, as sensitive as a child, and his work wears and wears till his nerves are so threadbare that he dares not...
